The Stanberry Herald, Wednesday, January 11, 1899:

The Grim Reaper, death claims well known citizens:

James Brown passes away at his home in this city on Wednesday evening, January 4, 1899. James Brown passed peacefully away at the age of 65 years, 5 months and 5 days. He had been sick with la grippe for a few days, but was confined to his bed only a portion of the time. On Wednesday morning he arose and sat up for a time, but was seized with pleuritic pains, and grew rapidly worse. He passed into unconsciousness, from which he aroused only a few minutes before his death. He died about 8 p.m., surrounded by his family and relatives.

James Brown was born in Scotland, but in infancy was brought by his parents to the United States, settling at Pittsburg, PA. He had six sisters and four brothers, six of whom are still living, namely; John Brown of Canada; Wm. Brown of Alleghany county, PA.; Mrs. Ann Martin of Pittsburg, PA.; Mrs. Agnes Brown of Alleghany City, PA.; Mrs. Sarah Hazelton of Pittsburg, PA.; and Samuel Brown of near Holton, Kas.

In 1858, Mr. Brown left Pennsylvania and came to Piatte county, MO., where he resided until 1861, when he came to Gentry county, where he resided continuously until his death, and where his life was an open book to his friends and neighbors. Here on February 19, 1863, he was married to Lucinda J. Norman, who still survives him. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. S. K. Davidson, and an adopted son, G. B. Brown. He had been a member of the Baptist church for 32 years, and was always consistent and loyal. He was also a member of the Masonic order. His funeral took place Saturday at the family residence, the services being conducted by Dr. J. T. Hanna, who spoke from the text, Rev. 21:7. The burial was at High Ridge cemetery.

James Brown had been identified with the history of Gentry county for many years, and with Stanberry since the foundation of the town. Forty acres of his farm went into the tract bought by the Western Improvement Company which founded the town. This ground comprises what is known as the Eastern addition, and includes the ground on which the Normal building stands. Brown's addition; which was platted by Mr. Brown a few years ago, is also a part of his original farm. Mr. Cameron moved with his parents to Rothville, Mo., when he was only two years old. He grew to young manhood in Rothville, living there for 27 years.

Early and late I watch and wait at Memory's gate.
As I peer through, Friends I once knew throng the dim view.
Far down the way wee children stray, and talk and play;
they seem so near I almost hear the words they say.
I know I trace each tiny face.
O moments rare.
Dear vision fair loved ones are there.
Some day, I know that I shall go to where they dwell - till then Ah! well - early and late I'll watch and wait at Memory's gate.

The first stroke was sustained nine years ago, and since that time Mrs. Grantham had been weak. For the past three years she had been very bad, and at times her heart almost refused to function. Heart failure, coupled with stroke, caused her death.

She was united in marriage to L. O. Grantham in February, 1890, by Rev. Tandy, and moved to a farm with her husband in 1892, where she remained until 1923, when they moved to Stanberry, where she lived until God called her from the Church Militant to the Church Triumphant. She united with the Christian church when a young girl. IN the year 1895 she, with her husband, united with the Methodist church at Alanthus, and remained faithful to time of her call to that greater life.

She was a kind and loving wife and mother and friend, and loved by all who knew her. She was a great sufferer, but never complaining. Her life was one of service to her family.

She leaves to mourn her departure to that great beyond, a husband, L. O. Grantham, six children, Blanch Richardson of Alanthus; Roy O. and Everett C. Grantham, who live on the

Owl-Headlight, Stanberry, Gentry County, Missouri, Thursday, Apr. 12, 1917:

Charles Hardin Killed:

Charles Hardin, one of Stanberry's young men, was killed near Bingham, late Wednesday evening. When the freight train on which he was braking pulled into Shenandoah, Charley was missed by the other brakeman and word was sent out about his disappearance. As near as we can get the news, the engine crew uncoupled the engine from the freight and went back towards Bingham, looking on each side of the track for him, and he was found under a bridge near that station. Undoubtedly his death was instantaneous, as the hack of his skull was crushed, and there were other bruises on the body. It is supposed that. in some manner, while passing over the bridge, he missed his hold on the car or slipped and fell, hitting his head on the bridge and falling underneath; but this is all guess work and the real cause of the accident will probably never be known.

The body will be brought to Stanberry on No. 50 tonight. The arrangements for the funeral could not be learned at our press time.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, mother, father, sisters and a brother. This is indeed a sad blow to the wife and the other relatives who are grief stricken. The entire community extends to the sorrowing relatives the deepest sympathy in this sad affair.
NOTE: Burial is in High Ridge Cemetery.

Marian Elois Harkrider was born May 16, 1916; died of the pneumonia fever at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Harkrider, April 6, 1917, age 10 months and 20 days. " The little pilgrim of so sunny disposition and sweet temperament, who came to bless and brighten the home, continued but briefly in this stay. Despite the blinding grief of saddened hearts because of her departure, there is consolation in the fact that she has been spared the rough experience of the stern realities of life, and today plays in the streets of that City of Cities, which Zech. says is filled with boys and girls at play. Comfort is also gathered from the knowledge that while her childish prattle, so dear to the heart of her parents, has ceased here, her voice chants the glad anthems of the blessed with children's chorus choir of Heaven. To God, who ia a present help in every time of trouble, do we in sympathy commend you. (burial in High Ridge Cemetery)

Gentry county Missouri, Obituaries: Cynthia Moore Robbins

Copyright. All rights reserved: <dhr1953@hotmail.com> Don Raymond

The Stanberry Owl-Headlight, Gentry County, Missouri, Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1911, front page: Cynthia Moore was born in Canada Oct. 27th, 1839, and died at her home in Stanberry, Mo., Sept. 1, 1911. She was the oldest of a family of fifteen children, eight of whom are still living.

She was married to Thomas Robbins on her twentieth birthday and for almost fifty-two years she has been a fulfillment to him of Prov. 19:14, "A prudent wife is from the Lord."

She was converted and united with the U. B. church in Canada before she was married, afterwards coming to the Methodist Episcopal church and continuing one of the many faithful members of this organization while she lived. She was possessed of a most beautiful Christian character, faithful, patient, kind, true, always true to the very highest ideals of the Christ life. For more than thirty years Thomas and Cynthia Robbins have lived so consistently that men of no creed, as well as those of every creed, have been compelled to admit that surely "They had been with Christ and learned of him." She was not afraid to live right, hence she was not afraid at death, almost joyfully she entered the open door that released her frail body from its suffering and pain. "What will become of Thomas?" was the last care she had and almost her last thought.

She had no children of her own, but the early death of her parents left her to be a mother as well as a sister to some of the family.

She leaves a sorrowing husband, four brothers, viz: Martin Moore, living in Pennsylvania; John B. Moore, of Canada; S. B. Moore, Beatrice, Neb.; George Moore, Sioux City, Ia.; four sisters, viz: Mrs. Elizabeth Tiberghien and Mrs. W. G. Brown, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Ada Mulligan, Brunswick, Mo.; Mrs. Maggie Gregg, Moberly, Mo.

The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Chas. H. Brott, at the new Methodist church, Sunday, 2:30 p. m., and her body was laid to rest in High Ridge cemetery.

The Stanberry Owl-Headlight, Gentry County, Missouri, Tuesday, January 24, 1911:

Mary Etta Reed was born in Clark county, IL., Oct. 1, 1849, and departed this life Jan. 19, 1911, being 61 years, 3 months and 18 days old.

She was married to F. M. Shaw March 4, 1867, at Terre Haute, Ind. To this union 6 children were born, 5 of whom survive, viz: Wm. F. and Chas. B., of Eskridge, Kans.; J. L. N., of Warsaw, Mo.; W. W. of Platte City, Mo.; Mrs. Jessie Butler, of this city.

Mrs. Shaw came with her husband to this state and county 35 years ago and they have resided near Stanberry all this time.

She united with the United Brethren church about 1877. After they moved to Stanberry she united with the Methodist Episcopal church December, 1894, and has remained a faithful worker in the church until her death. She seldom missed a service and was a faithful member of the Working Band - an organization of this church distinguished for its faithful and efficient service to the cause of Christianity in the community. Her death will make a vacancy in this body that cannot be filled.

She was never strong, but always hopeful. Some two weeks before her death she requested her daughter to write to the boys, as she loved to call her children, though they are men now, and say to them, that she was sick, there was little hope of her ever being better and that she would like to see them once before she died. Thus early she realized that the end was near, but never by word, thought or deed did she show any fear. Her faith was triumphant. To her friends she said repeatedly, "If I do not get well I am sure to plant my feet on higher ground." To me she said, "I am not afraid to die and I am going as straight to heaven as one can go." Her concern was for her unsaved friends, always enquiring if certain ones in whom she was interested were at church the evening before my visits and especially her own boys, her constant prayer was for them. Boys, if you ever see your mother again you will see her in heaven and if you do not heed her prayers you will never see her. God help you.

She leaves a devoted husband, five children, a number of grandchildren and a host of friends to wait awhile for the meeting over there.

The funeral service was conducted by her pastor from the New Methodist church Sunday, Jan 23rd. Interment in High Ridge cemetery.

At such a time, when on is in a home where there is a vacant chair; where the soul is dumb and we are in the presence of a great affliction, = then we rest upon the promises of Jesus, "I an the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall he live."

"The air is full of farewells to the dying,
And mournings for the dead;
The heart of Rachel, for her children crying,
Will not be comforted.

"Let us be patient. Those severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise;
But oftentimes celestial benedictions
Assume this dark disguise.

"In that great cloister's pure and holy stillness,
By guardian angels led;
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
He lives whom we call dead."

Gentry county Missouri, Obituaries: J. Frank Shoemaker

The Stanberry Owl-Headlight, Gentry County, Missouri, Tuesday, January 10, 1911:
A Sad Death: Tuesday, Jan. 3rd, the home of Brother and Sister Shoemaker in North Stanberry was stricken with deepest sorrow by the sad intelligence that their second son, J. Frank, had been killed at Shawnee, Okla.

Frank had come from Wyoming a few days before his death to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Durand, in Oklahoma City, and had left their home only a few hours before with the intention of returning in a few days and remaining in Oklahoma City permanently.

It seems that at Shawnee the dispatchers' office is just near the depot and the station is called before the train slows down for this office. Frank, as nearly all passengers do, thought it was the depot, and started to get off, reached the platform, when the train gave a lurch. The outside door was unfastened and he was thrown through the door to the platform and drawn under the train and one limb was almost severed from his body and the fingers cut from one hand. Some delay occurred before he was taken to the hospital and the loss of blood made his recovery impossible. He died on the operating table two hours later, where every effort was being made to save his life.

J. Frank Shoemaker was born near Stanberry, Aug. 9th, 1878, and was educated in the Albany High school and for a while attended one of the colleges at the same place. He had united with the church at twelve years of age and was a boy of unusual intelligence, kind and devoted in his home life. He enlisted in the army Jan. 16th, 1899, and served three years, first going to Porto Rico and then to the Philippines. A well read and intelligent man in this community said to me that Frank gave him the best description of the Philippines that he had ever heard.

After thorough investigation it has been found that the reports of his death as received here were false in every particular. We are assured that death came to him as it would have come to anyone else, as the above remarks show. Those who attended him were impressed that he was well educated and well raised, giving their testimony freely, also that he displayed a courage through it all such as is seldom seen.

Frank, as he admitted to his aunt, had become somewhat wild, but he realized that he had made a mistake and was going to change, and in his last letter to his mother written the night before he was killed, he had promised her that he intended to lead a different life.

Dec. 29th, 1910, at the early age of 32 years, 4 months and 20 days he so suddenly met death. Truly "We know not what a day may bring forth." Life and death unite to prove Thy word true. His life is in Thy had, Oh, God, and our comfort is that Thou dost know and that doest all things well.

The funeral was conducted from the home Jan. 7th by the pastor of the M. E. church and his body laid to rest in High Ridge cemetery. Kind friends brought their tokens of sympathy and the entire community was touched by the deep grief of a family who have had more than their share of the sorrows of life, but who through it all have lived so nobly and well as to win the high regard of all who know them.

The Stanberry Owl Headlight, Gentry County Missouri, Tuesday, December 12, 1911:
Clarence Guy Smith was born in Gentry county, Mo., April 25, 1890, and died the 10th day of December, 1911, being 21 years, 7 months and 15 days old. He has lived all his life in the county where he was born.

At the age of 10 years he united with the Bethel Methodist Episcopal church, South, in Nodaway county. He lived with his parents on the farm, except the last few years he spent in the service of the Wabash Railroad Company, until failing health compelled him to retire, and at this time he belonged to the order of Railroad Trainmen.

He was confined to his bed more than a year, but bore the suffering as only one can who has put their trust in their Lord and Savior. As it dawned on him that he must soon depart this life, he said he was ready to go and in the closing hours of his life, sang praise in his weak way to his Maker, and waving his hands looking toward heaven, seeming to be beckoning to the unseen to mortal eye, slowly lapsed into that sleep that knows no waking.

His funeral was conducted at the M. E. church in this city by the pastor on Monday, Dec. 11, at 2 o'clock p. m., and his remains were laid to rest in High Ridge cemetery.

He leaves father, mother, sister and brother with a number of other relatives.

Gentry county Missouri, Obituaries: Edgar Clark Vance

The Stanberry Owl-Headlight, Gentry County, Missouri, Tuesday, March 28, 1911:
Edgar Clark Vance was born in Gentry county, Missouri, Jan. 17, 1876, and died at his home at Seven Persons, Alberta, Canada, March 18, 1911. He was married to Della Wilson, April 5, 1896, and to this union five children were born. He lived the greater part of his life in this county, but after he was married he lived in Dakota eight years and just a little over one year ago moved to Canada, where he died.

Sometime last fall while riding on the running-gears of his wagon he suffered a severe accident in which one foot was crushed and the bone fractured badly, he was just recovered from this, when he went to a town some eighteen miles away and on returning fell from the wagon and was found by strangers, who brought him home. When he reached home he was almost gone and died soon without being able to speak. The immediate cause of his death was paralysis.

Edgar was converted at the Wilson school house when he was eighteen years of age and joined the Baptist church. some two years later he went with his wife to the Christian church and continued a member of this church until his death. He did not keep as close to the teaching of the Bible as his mother and friends would have liked, but of his conversion he never doubted. He was good to attend church wherever he lived and enjoyed the gospel. It was the privilege of the writer to meet and talk with him and to all my efforts he was manly and fair. He never missed a week writing to his mother. The week he died his letter was on the way, reaching her after the sad news of his death.

He was an honored member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge and of the Modern Woodmen.

The funeral was held at the new M. E. church in the presence of a large congregation of relatives and friends, conducted by Rev. Chas. H. Brott, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Harris of the Baptist church and Rev. Darnell of the Christian church, with burial at High Ridge cemetery, in charge of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

To his wife and children, his father, mother, brother and two sisters his death is a previous stroke, coming so suddenly. Truly life is uncertain, like the grass, the dew, a little while it flourisheth and is gone.

His children, Frank, Chester, Quincy, Anthony, Earl, and Oliver, Mrs. Fannie Baker, Mrs. Tobie Summa, Mrs. Cleo Rucker, and Mrs. Minnie Neal. These were all present at the funeral except Earl, who is a soldier with the colors in France. He also leaves two brothers, Ell and Edmond Walker, also two sister, Mrs. Mary Hopkins, and Pletna SinClair. These were present at the funeral except Mrs. SinClair who was not able to attend. Deceased also had twenty-eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Brother Walker united with the Church of God about thirty-two years ago. And during this time has been active and earnest in his work. He has held offices in the General Conference. His son, Chester, being now, and has been for some time, Secretary of the General Conference.

The great features of Brother Walker's life was his faith and hope and unbounded trust in the Word of God. He would impress a stranger, seeing him for the first time, as being a very unusual man in this respect, and it is not too much to say that as a neighbor, a friend, or good counselor, he was loved by all who knew him. He will be missed in our gatherings here at Stanberry and elsewhere, where for many years he was always present.

Services were held Dec. 24, in the Church of God at Stanberry, and Bro. Walker was laid to rest in the High Ridge Cemetery to await the Master's call. This was the source of comfort to our brother before his decease and this hope sustained him to the last. His companion and children did everything for his relief and comfort.

Fondly we hope, sincerely do we believe that this good brother's life and example, will remain though he is gone, and in the resurrection morn he may be called to life where infirmity or death will never be known.

May God bless and sustain his aged companion and children in this hour of trial and bereavement.

The Stanberry Headlight, Thursday, May 13, 1943:

Mrs. Chrisanna Walker is Dead: Death Claimed Well Known Citizen in Center Grove Neighborhood Early Last Saturday Morning:

Mrs. Chrisanna Walker, for many years a well known resident of the Center Grove neighborhood, died at her home there early last Saturday morning. While she had been in failing health for a number of years, she had been seriously ill only during the past week.

Funeral services were held at the Church of god at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by Elder Stanley Kauer, of Union Star, assisted by Elder Archie Craig. Interment was in the High Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Walker had lived a long and useful life, one about which an interesting historical book might have been written. She was the daughter of George and Margaret Nelson, who came to this country from Denmark to join the Mormon emigration to Salt Lake City, Utah.

Their travel to this country was by boat to St. Louis and from that point they traveled overland by covered wagon with the Brigham Young migration until they reached the Missouri river in southern Iowa. There they left the caravan and settled in a town known as Christian City.

Mrs. Walker was the first white child to be born in that city. She was born on February 20, 1858. At the age of two years, she came with her parents who homesteaded 160 acres of land near the present site of the Center Grove school. The major portion of her life was spent in that school district.

She was married on March 31, 1886 to Anthony Green Walker, of near Gentry. They spent their early married life in that vicinity, but in 1896 the family returned to the Center Grove community and that became her home for almost all of the remainder of her life.

Mr. Walker died on December 22, 1918. Since that time her son, O. T. Walker, had made his home with her.

In early life she united with the Pleasant Hill Church of God, north-east of Alanthus. Mrs. Walker was the last charter member of that organization. Throughout her entire life she was a devout and active member.

She had a profound feeling of interest in orphaned children. At one time she had three sets of children in her own home to rear and care for - her own children, her step-children and the children of her brother-in-law. The last mentioned children had been left without a mother. Members of the family said that at no time did she make any distinction in her treatment of the group.

Surviving her are three sons: A. G. Walker, south of Stanberry, Earl H. Walker, Gentry, and O. T. Walker, who made his home with her; one daughter, Mrs. Minnie Neal, of Omaha; four step-children, Frank Walker and Mrs. W. I. Summa, of Gentry, Mrs. Sam Baker, of Stanberry, and P. C. Walker, of Tonganoxie, Kan.

Mrs. Walker also is survived by two brothers, Cornelius Nelson, of Hillsboro, Ore., and Abraham Nelson, of Scappoose, Okla. There are eight grandchildren, one great grandchild, and a wide circle of friends.

One son, Q. M. Walker, died on March 4, 1940. Two step-children, Wesley Walker and Mrs. Walter Rucker, also had preceded her in death.

She was of a cheerful disposition, and at her extreme age with hearing and sight impaired was quite optimistic.

Earth holds no rarer beauty than that reposing in the face of mother. An upright life leaves its testimony with us today to become a precious heritage of memory in the days to come. May its signal effect be to lead us home with God.
